Making Waves At State

Marisa Barton and Dolores Boschert will be suiting up this Friday, February 19, for the 2016 state swim competition. Dolores will be competing in the 50 Free and the 100 Free after qualifying with times of 25.68 and 55.34, respectively. Marisa, in her first ever state appearance, will be competing in the 100 Breaststroke, after qualifying with a time of 1:12.16. Both swimmers are set to compete in the prelims on Friday at 3 o'clock at the Rec-Plex with the hope of qualifying for the finals on Saturday. "I'm so excited!" says Dolores. "My goal is to make it back to finals and get the chance to stand on the awards podium." After an outstanding season from the pair, these two are certain to bring some major competition to the meet. Good luck Marisa and Dolores!

Pioneer Petes Netflix Pick of the Week

Talladega Nights is about a NASCAR racer named Ricky Bobby. He is the best driver in NASCAR until he is faced up with the best French racer in Formula 1. His name is Jean Girard. In the middle of a big race, Ricky crashes and rolls, and is traumatized by it, so he drops out of racing. The remainder of the movie shows his climb back into the drivers seat and beating Girard once and for all.

The movie got a perfect score because of its hilarity. All throughout the movie you hear the famous quote "Shake and Bake" from Ricky and his best friend Cal. This movie never stops making you laugh, not even for a second. Will Ferrell knows how to make a movie the funniest it could possibly be. - Kilian Padavan

DHS SPORTS

Duchesne beat the Warriors from St. Charles West on Tuesday with a 49-43 final. This was the annual basketball bash as well. Ryan Briscoe led the way for the pioneers with 20 points and Cooper Tune put up 12 of his own. Go pioneers!

The girls also played St. Charles West, doubling them up 48-24. What a night for pioneer basketball!

The cheerleaders and dance team had tournaments this weekend. The cheerleaders came in 3rd and dance team came in 1st!

Congrats to Dolores Boschert and Marissa Barton for qualifying for state in swimming!

Feel like having pizza? If you order from Papa John's, do it online and use the coupon code 25OFF, you'll get 25% of your entire order. It's valid throughout 2016.

Next time you're craving milk and cookies, make it easy on yourself and use the empty compartment for milk instead of a cup. This way, you'll have less to clean up.

Don't have a chip clip, no problem. Here's a quick and easy way to seal your chip bags nice and tight so they won't go stale.

Worldwide Youth in Science and Engineering Academic Competition

This Friday, February 18, a group of Duchesne students will compete in the Regional WYSE Academic Competition. The competitors will travel to McKendree University to participate in six different events: Math, Chemistry, Biology, English, Computer Science, and Physics. The scoring will determine the individual winners of each event, as well as whether or not the team will advance on to sectionals. Good luck to all our school participants!

To Be Honest...

1. Only 25 million people watched the Grammys compared to 119 million watching the Super Bowl. Guess people would rather watch grown men tackle each other than see Taylor Swift win the album of the year.
2. Bow Wow tried starting the Grammys with well over 90 seconds on the count down clock. It's not the time to be silly Bow Wow, and apparently it's not time to start the Grammys either.
3. Taylor Swift dedicated her acceptance speech for her album of the year to getting back at Kanye West. Looks like Taylor really can't shake it off.
4. During Adele's performance of "All I Ask" her microphone started cutting out. I bet she was thinking "All I Ask" is to get a better microphone.
