

ARCHBISHOP MAY SERVICE AWARD WINNERS – Where Are They Now?

SARAH BROWN – 1999 awardee

1. Was there a key influence at Duchesne that prompted you to be so interested and involved in service? Please give specifics if possible.

My parents have always instilled in us to help others at all times. When my sisters and I attended Duchesne, they helped foster that with the core values they teach to all of their students. The feeling of a family atmosphere allowed us to be who we are.

2. Have you continued to be involved in service in your life after Duchesne? Please give a few examples, if possible.

Since graduating from Duchesne, I have been involved in many fundraising opportunities to help support worthy causes with charities and my church, including the Pioneer Expedition, Optometry Giving Sight, and the PKD Foundation to name a few.

3. We know you've done a lot for others; what do you feel you've gained in the time you've spent in the service of others? What have you taken away from the experience(s)?

Helping others has made a huge impact on my life. Being able to see the joy and appreciation for the person you are helping instantly fills your heart with that same joy. I hope to pass along these same traits to my nephew and nieces.

Please let us know what you are doing now.

I played basketball and graduated from Benedictine College in 2003. Currently, I am the Manager of Customer Support at EyePromise. We provide vitamins, technology, and support to enhance and protect vision. I enjoy spending time with my family and watching my nieces and nephew's sporting events.
