

When the French Revolution broke out, many priests were put in jail. Philippine took them food and prayed with them.